The ADR Office will contact you via fax or mail regarding whether or not this case has been approved to mediate. You will receive a Referral to Mediation or a notice informing you that this case was not found to be appropriate for mediation. If the ADR Office finds that this case is not appropriate for mediation, it will be the responsibility of the attorneys and parties involved in the case to cancel with the mediator at least 48 hours prior to the mediation if the attorneys or parties have already scheduled a session with a mediator. Otherwise the mediator may charge a two-hour cancellation fee.
